THE BATTLE AUTUMN OF 1862.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

The flags of war like storm-birds fly,
The charging trumpets blow;
Yet rolls no thunder in the sky,
No earthquake strives below.

And, calm and patient, Nature keeps
Her ancient promise well,
Though o'er her bloom and greenness sweeps
The battle's breath of hell.

And still she walks in golden hours
Through harvest-happy farms,
Ank still she wears her fruits and flowers
Like jewels on her arms.

What mean the gladness of the plain,
This joy of eye and morn,
The mirth that shakes the beard of grain
And yellow locks of corn?

Ah! eyes may well be full of tears,
And hearts with hate are hot;
But even paced come round the years,
And Nature changes not.

She meets with smiles our bitter grief,
With songs our groans of pain;
She mocks with tint of flower and leaf
The war-field's crimson stain.

Still, in the cannon's pause, we hear
Her sweet thanksgiving psalm;
Too near to God for doubt or fear,
She shares the eternal calm.

She knows the seed lies safe below
The fires that blast and burn;
For all the tears of blood we sow
She waits the rich return.

She sees with clearer eye than ours
The good of suffering born—
The hearts that blossom like her flowers,
And ripen like her corn.

Oh! give to us, in times like these,
The vision of her eyes;
And make her fields and fruited trees
Our golden prophecies!

Oh! give to us her finer ear
Above this stormy din;
We, too, would hear the bells of cheer
Ring peace and freedom in!

WATCHING ONE'S SELF.—"When I was a boy," said an old man, "we had a school master who had an odd way of catching idle boys. One day he called out to us—

"Boys, I must have closer attention to your books. The first one of you that sees another boy idle, I want you to inform me, and I will attend to the case."

Ah, thought I to myself, there is Joe Simmons that I don't like. I'll watch him, and if I see him look off his book I'll tell. It was not long before I saw Joe look off his book, and immediately I informed the school master.

"Indeed," said he, "how did you know he was idle?"

"I saw him," said I.

"You did; and were your eyes on your book when you saw him?"

I was caught, and never watched for idle boys again.

If we are sufficiently watchful over our own conduct, we shall have no time to find fault with the conduct of others.

A HANDSOME COMPLIMENT.—The following letter, addressed by Gen. M'Clellan to Gov. Curtin, will be read with pleasure by every resident in the Keystone State. It is dated from Headquarters at Sharpsburg Sept. 27th:

GOVERNOR:—I beg to avail myself almost the first moment of leisure I have had since the recent battles, to tender you my thanks for your wise and energetic action in calling out the militia of Pennsylvania for its defense, when threatened by a numerous and victorious army of the enemy. Fortunately circumstances rendered it impossible for the enemy to set foot upon the soil of Pennsylvania, but the moral support rendered to my army by your action was none the less mighty. In the name of my army, and for myself, I again tender to you our acknowledgments for your patriotic course; the manner in which the people of Pennsylvania responded to your call and hastened to the defence of their frontier, no doubt exercised a great influence upon the enemy.

I am, very respectfully and sincerely yours,

GEO. B. M'CLELLAN,
Major General U. S. A.

A "SHARPER."—It is stated that an officer of a company lately made a good financial speculation, (if a gross fraud can be called "good,") in recruiting in Connecticut. He enlisted about thirty men in Hartford, sold them to another captain at $10 a head, got his own pay and bounty, and then enlisted as a substitute, selling himself for $450; got the cash, went into camp, run the guard at night, went to his own town, procured the town bounty of $200, and then with a pocket full of rocks, disappeared.

CERTAINLY NOT!—The Adjutant Gen. has decided that students are not exempt from a draft. We never tho't they were. Look at the beer they drink! Look at their drafts upon the Governor's pockets. Exempt! We should think not.

Romance of an Old Couple.

The following somewhat remarkable narrative is related by a western lady, now on a visit to this city from Mariposa. She is herself a character. She has crossed the plains twice—first in 1849, during which her husband perished—and is the first American lady who returned to the east by the way of the Isthmus of Panama.—She is a genuine heroine—a fine specimen of stout hearted western womanhood—and her adventures in the wilds of the unpeopled west have been numerous and exciting. If the good people of Mariposa have missed a lady from their neighborhood, they are hereby apprised that she is comfortably located at the boarding house of Mrs. Nesbit, on the corner of Montgomery and Sutter streets, and will not return to the mountains until Holmes of the Gazette, ceases to harrow the hearts of Mariposa mothers by calling their litttle babies "brats."

Well, while the train of which this lady was a member was encamped at a point on the Humboldt, where the Lessen trail intersects the Carson track of travel, she visited the tent of a family, consisting of an elderly couple and one child—a daughter of fourteen or fifteen years. The old lady was sitting on a pile of blankets, under the canvas, encouraging a most determined attack of the "sulks," while the masculine head of affairs had planted himself on his wooden tongue, and was sucking his pipe as leisurely as though he expected to remain there forever. A single glance developed the fact that there was a difficulty in that little train of one wagon and three persons, and that it had attained a point of quiet desperation beyond the reach of peaceful adjustment.—Three days before they had pitched their tent at the forks of the road and as they could not agree upon the route by which to enter California, there they had remained. The husband expressed a preference for the Carson road—the wife for the Lessen—and neither would yield. The wife declared she would remain there all winter, the husband said he should be pleased to lengthen the sojourn through the summer following.

On the morning of the fourth day, the wife broke a sullen silence of thirty six hours by proposing a division of the property, which consisted of two yoke of cattle, one wagon, camp furniture, a small quantity of provisions and $12 in silver. The proposal was accepted, and forthwith the "plunder" was divided, leaving the wagon to the old man, and the daughter to the mother. The latter exchanged with a neighboring train the cattle belonging to her, for a pony and pack saddle, and piling the daughter and her portion of the divided spoils upon the animal, she resolutely started across the desert by the Lessen trail while the old man silently yoked the cattle and took the other route. Singular as this may seem, it is nevertheless true. It is among the many occurrences of life stranger than fiction. Of course both parties reached California in safety. We say "of course," for it is scarcely possible that any obstacle, death included, could have seriously interfered with the progress of stubbornness so sublime. Arriving at Sacramento with her daughter, the old lady readily found employment—for women were less plenty than now—and subsequently opened a boarding house, and in a few years amassed a handsome fortune. Two years ago she went to San Francisco, and the daughter whose education had not been neglected, was married to one of the most substantial citizens.

And what has become of the old man? The wife had not seen or heard of him since they parted on the Humboldt. They had lived happily together as a man and wife for years, and she sometimes reproached herself for the wilfulness that separated them after so long a pilgrimage together through this rough life. But he was not dead. We cannot trace his course in California, however. All that we know of him is, that fortune had not smiled upon him, and that for years he had toiled without hope. Finally, feeling scarcely able to longer wield the pick and shovel, he visited San Francisco in the hope of obtaining employment better adapted to his wasted strength.

For three months he remained idle after arriving here, and for want of occupation became the humble retailer of peanuts and oranges, with his entire stock of traffic in a basket upon his arm. This was about six months ago. A few weeks since, in passing the open door of a cottage in the southern part of the city, he observed a lady in the hall and stopped to offer his merchandise. As he stepped upon the threshold, the lady approached and the old man raised his eyes and dropped the basket, and no wonder either—for she was his wife—his "old woman?" She recognized him, and throwing up her arms in amazement, exclaimed: "Great God! John is that you?" "All that is left of me," replied the old man. With extended arms they approached. Suddenly the old lady's countenance changed, and she stepped back. "John," said she, with a look which might have been construed into earnestness, "how did you find the Carson road?" "Miserable Suky—miserable," replied the old man "full of sand and alkali!" "Then I was right, John?" she continued, inquiringly. "You were, Suky," he replied. "That's enough!" said she throwing her arms around the old man's neck; "that's enough, John;" and the old couple strangely sundered, were again united. Both are living with their daughter on Second street.

Daring Exploit.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette relates the following bold exploit in front of Chattanooga:

The army was halted to rest and to give time for a reconnoisance, in order to learn the enemy's position and strength. This was a very difficult and dangerous matter, owing to the nature of the ground. Several unsuccessful attempts had been made to procure the much desired information, when James [illegible] Matteson, 1st Lieut. Co. C, 37th Indiana volunteers, rode boldly up to within sixty yards of the enemy, halted, surveyed of his entrenchments, accurately computed his strength in numbers and position, ascertained the number of his siege guns and field artillery, then wheeled his horse and rode off, waving his cap triumphantly through a tremendous shower of balls, bidding defiance to the hundreds of missiles of death whistling all around, and rode up to the General, calmly and pleasantly smiling, to give his information. I asked him how he escaped. "Thro' the mercy of God and very bad rebel marksmanship," he promptly replied, laughing.

This must certainly be very true, for about three hundred guns were fired at him at the short distance of sixty yards, and not one took effect. He said that the balls sounded like a swarm of bees around him.

It is universally admitted by all who witnessed this exploit, and are acquainted with the circumstances, that it competes with any, even in the annals of history.

ANECDOTES OF SUMNER AND BURNSIDE.—A story is told of the veteran Sumner at the battle of Antietam.—His son, young Captain Sumner, a youth of twenty-one, was on his staff. The old man calmly stood, amidst a storm of shot and shells, and turned to send him through a doubly raging fire, upon a mission of duty. He might never see his boy again, but his country claimed his life, and as he looked upon his young brow he grasped his hand, encircling him in his arms, and fondly kissed him. "Good bye, Sammy." "Good bye, father," and the youth mounting his horse, rode gaily on with the message. He returned unharmed, and again his hand was grasped with a cordial "How d'ye do, Sammy?" answered by a grasp of equal affection. The scene was touching to those around.

Burnside now stands as a general of unvarying success, and a nation accords him praise. His head is prematurely bald. He has grown stout, and rolls like a jolly tar as he walks, and his soldiers call him "the old man." They adore him both for his leadership and his manners. He rarely meets a soldier without a nod and a friendly question, and the man departs delighted at his notice. Officers are no less under the influence of his attractions, and he tempers strict injunctions with a smile. "Did you hear what I have been saying?" asked he of each of his division generals, as he issued orders on the night before the battle of Antietam. "Yes." "Then say it over." And the generals, like school boys in a class, repeated their lessons.

THE ENGLISH HARVEST.—The London Times speaking of the harvests of 1862, says the results are unexpectedly favorable. It is not quite an average crop, but it is very little short of the mark. What, with foreign and what with home produce, the granaries of the kingdom will soon be full. A correspondent of the same paper, who represents himself to have travled over the greater part of England, says: "The wheat crop will be from six to eight bushels below an average per cent. and of a shrivelled and inferior quality; the barley will be ten, and oats from four to six bushels below an average; that winter beans (which is an important auxiliary crop in England) are in many cases a total failure, and spring sown beans about an average crop; of peas there is a fair crop; of Swedish turnips, which are largely depended upon for fodder, only about half a crop; and of mangold-wurtzel two thirds of a crop, potatoes are from ten to twenty per cent. above the average; meadow hay, is abundant but badly secured; clover hay above an average and of good quality, and the pastures full of "keep," but poor and not of a very fattening quality. As a consequence, England will be in the market as a large purchaser, her consumption being estimated at three hundred thousand bushels a day more than the she can raise. In France the crops are below an average."

☞ Boarder—"What large chickens these are!" Landlady—"Yes, chickens are larger now a days than they used to be; ten years ago they were nothing like so large." Boarder (innocently)—"No, I suppose not; they must have grown some in that time."—(Landlady looks as though she tho't she had been misunderstood.)

The Sunset of Two Lives.

"A. H. K. K." writes in an English magazine a pleasant essay about "Beginnings and Ends." Here is his description of a life-sunset:

"I have been touched by the sight of human life, ebbing almost visibly away; and you could not but think of the sun in his last little space above the mountains, or above the sea. I remember two old gentlemen, great friends, both on the extreme verge of life. One was above ninety; the other above eighty. But their wits were sound and clear; and, better still, their hearts were right. They confessed that they were no more than strangers and pilgrims on the earth; they declared plainly that they sought a country far away, where most of those they had cared for were waiting for them. But the body was very nearly worn out; and though the face of each was pleasant to look at, paralysis had laid it grasp upon the aged machinery of limb and muscle which had played so long. I used, for a few weeks, to go one evening in the week and sit with them and take tea. They always had tea in large breakfast cups; other cups would not have done. I remember how the two paralytic hands shook about, as they tried to drink their tea. There they were, the two old friends; they had been friends from boyhood, and they had been over the world together. You could not have looked, my friend, but with eyes somewhat wet, at the large tea-cups shaking about, as the old men with difficulty raised them to their lips.—And there was a thing that particularly struck me. There was a large old fashioned watch, always on a little stand on the tea table, ticking on and on. You seemed to feel it measuring out the last minutes running fast away. It always awed me to look at it and hear it. Only for a few weeks did I visit those old frends, till one died; and the other soon followed him, where there are no palsied hands or aged hearts. No doubt, through all the years the old-fashioned watch had gone about in the old gentleman's pocket, life had been ebbing as really and as fast as then. And the sands were running as quickly for me as for the aged pilgrims. But then with me it was the middle, and to them it was the end. And I always felt it very solemn to look at the two old men on the confines of life, and at the watch loudly ticking off their last hours.—One seemed to feel time ebbing, as you see the setting sun go down.

A MAN KILLED BY THE ELEPHANT, HANNIBAL.—The notorious elephant, "Hannibal," belonging to Van Amburg & Co.'s Menagerie, whose numerous exploits, when enraged, have furnished so many newspaper paragraphs has been shorn as effectually as was Sampson, of his power for further mischief. A few weeks since, at Caldwell, in Ohio, he killed an unfortunate man who was partially deranged, and who, in the momentary absence of Hannibal's keeper, was foolish enough to irritate the huge beast, as he was standing upon the show lot, previous to his departure for the next town.—No blame was attached to the keeper, as the act of the victim was as suicidal as if he had thrown himself under the wheels of a locomotive; but, in order to prevent the mischief of any further accidents from the dangerous temper of the elephant, Mr. Van Amburg had his enormous tusks sawn off a few inches from his jaw, thus reducing him to the position of a non-combatant, in the future. The tusks being the weapons, offensive and defensive, of the elephant, we may expect to hear of no farther instances of destructive operations upon the part of this noted animal.

☞ "Why is it, my son, that when you drop your bread and butter, it is always on the butter side?"

"I don't know. It hadn't orter had it? The strongest side ought to up, and this is the strongest butter I have ever seen."

"Hush up; it's some of your aunt's churning."

"Did she churn it, the great lazy thing?"

"What, your aunt?"

"No, this here butter. To make the poor old woman churn it when it is strong enough to churn itself."

"Hush, Zeb. I've eat a great deal worse in the most aristocratic house."

"Well, people of rank ought to eat it."

"Why people of rank?"

"'Cause it's rank butter."

"You varmint, you! what makes you talk so smart?"

"'Cause the butter has taken the skin off my tongue."

"Zeb, don't lie? I can't throw away the butter."

"I'll tell you what I would do with it—keep it to draw blisters. You ought to see the flies keel over as soon as they touch it."

SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.—It is a curious coincidence, well worthy of remark, that the recent decisive battle fought by General McClellan, took place on the 17th of September—the very day on which, seventy-five years ago, the Constitution of the United States was signed and adopted. The battle was fought on the one side for the preservation of this invaluable instrument, which has conferred so many lasting blessing on the human race, and on the other for its destruction.

Peter Cartwright on Slavery.

At the late General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Canada, Peter Cartwright, who was present as the delegate from the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States, gave the following review of the relation of his church to slavery:

"We have had troubles and controversies, resulting in divisions. The great division was consummated in 1845. It had been brewing for years before. Slavery was its sole cause, and civil war its bitter consequences; and I will say that the preachers South have done more for this than all the Southern demagogues and great men put together. I am a Southerner by birth and education; born in Virginia, raised in Kentucky; traveled twenty years in Slave States. I understood the matter thoroughly. Even as late as the General Conference of 1832, we had no Methodist preachers who would openly avow slavery to be right; but in 1836, at Cincinnati, a brother from South Carolina made a set speech to prove Slavery of Divine appointment. His Southern brethern were ashamed of it and hissed him.—But at the Baltimore General Conference (1840) some pretty strong advances were made toword justification of Slavery.

In 1844 we had the great battle in New York. Bishop Andrews, a very good man, but the owner of slaves, was selected as a fair case for a fight. They then determined that we should make it bare to the ministry or episcopate, or they would go out. There was a majority from the Free States, but they did not understand those Southern preachers. I comprehended the whole plan. I said to M'Ferrin, (now perhaps in jail, or ought to be) then editor of The South Western Christain Advocate, 'Brother M'Ferrin, if the Methodist Conference is divided, it will be the entering wedge to disolution of the Union.' He answered, 'God grant it soon.'

How soon his bitter spirit would sacrifice the Church and the Union to Slavery! I preached thirty-eight years ago against Slavery; was fined two or three times for it. I preached on it at a camp meeting; when a Methodist magistrate fined me $3 and costs. Two slaveholders paid the fine and I said: 'Load and fire again.' I have received most abusing letters from Southern ministers; but if they knew how little it mortified me they would not write any more. I take it as an honor to be abused by such dirty scamps. I would consider myself unworthy of my ancestry, my country, or my Church, if I did not go heart and soul against this rebellion. Slavery is its bone and sinew. There would have been no civil war if they did not want to nationalize Slavery.

Important Decisions Under the Tax Law.

Each particular article of manufacture is taxed for its value, though materials in its production have already been taxed in another form.

Telegrams.—Messages transmitted by telegraph and railroad companies over their own wires, on their own business, for which they receive no pay, are not taxable.

Legal Documents.—Every paper, is equally valid issued before January 1st, 1863, without the stamp as with it. If the unstamped instrument should be needed as evidence in court, the party using would be subjected to an expense of $5.

Congress will probably give relief in this particular.

This decision refers to the 95th section of the Revenue law. It is proper to add here that penalties will not be enforced under this law until the stamps are issued.

Napoleon on Conscription.

NAPOLEON declared in his Council of State:

"I am inexorable on this subject of exemptions. It would be criminal. How could I reconcile it to my conscience to expose the life of one man for the advantage of another? I do not think I would exempt even my own son. The conscription is the everlasting root of a nation, its moral purification, the real foundation of its habits. By means of the conscription, the nation was classed according to its real interests for defense abroad and tranquility at home. Organized, built up in this way, the French people might have defied the world, and might with justice have renewed the saying of the proud Gauls: 'If the sky should fall, we will prop it up with our lances.'"

---

THE REBELS AT THE BOTTOM OF IT.—The Richmond Dispatch of the 24th says:

As we Expected.—The Yankees are about to send their army captured at Harper's Ferry against the Indians. Has the Government no means of retaliating for such a breach of faith.

It is no "breach of faith" unless the Sioux of Minnesota are allies of the rebels. Are they? Are the recent bloody massacres in Minnesota to be laid at the doors of the rebels. It is believed to be so by many of the western people; but we should like to know for a certainty.

Keeping Potatoes.

Owing to the fact that potatoes generally command a better price in the spring than in the fall, many of our farmers would prefer keeping them until then, but for trouble of keeping them."

The main danger is of their rotting; but if kept dry this is not chargeable to their keeping, for the rot is in them when they leave the patch.

Some take great precautions to prevent them from freezing, and these very precautions are too often the cause of their destruction.

I will hazard the assertion that freezing will not injure potatoes. It is the thawing which does the damage. Nor will gradual thawing hurt them; it is only when the thawing is too sudden that they are injured.

Potatoes may be heaped up in the patch and covered with two or three inches of dirt well packed down, and they will keep in spite of a dozen freezings and thawings, if kept dry.

If kept in the cellar it should be in a tight box with a lid, that they may always be in the dark, to prevent sprouting.

If while the potatoes are in the cellar they should freeze, do not wait for them to thaw, but cover them with straw, old clothes, or sawdust, and let them thaw very gradually, and they will come out good.

This will apply to turnips or any other root, as well as to apples and other fruits. The main item is to keep them dry, and if buried to provide drains to carry away the water from the heap.—Germantown Tel.

☞ Davy Crocket had a wonderful memory of which Col. ———, whom he once run against for Congress, lately gave the following anecdote in proof:

"When we began our electioneering campaign," said Col. A———, not being able to speak very well extempore, or rather not at all; I wrote out a speech with great care, and committed it to memory. I had always spoken first, but at the fourth, which was a very numerous one, Crocket proposed that he should take the lead. He accordingly mounted the stand, and, to my utter astonishment recited every word of my speech, only changing very slightly a sentence or two to suit his own case. I never felt more awkward in my life. My turn to speak came, and my speech was gone—stolen—used up—and I was left without a word to say.

"To complete my mortification the rascal was chuckling and laughing as if he had done the very cleverest thing in the world."

LINT A HUMBUG.—A writer in the Boston Post says of lint:—

Every ounce of lint sent to the army does mischief. It's only use is to cover up the blunders of bad surgery. It is seldom used by the best surgeons here. In the army it is crowded into the wounds by men who know no other way to stop hemorrhage, and there it remains till it becomes filled with filth and maggots. It retains the discharges till they putrify, and produce intolerable stench. The termination of its work is the death of the patient.

☞ "There's two ways of doing it," said Pat to himself, as he stood musing and waiting for a job. "If I save me two thousand dollars, I must lay up two hundred dollars a year for twenty years, or I can put away twenty dollars a year for two hundred years—now which shall I do?"

It is suggested by some that we might have a horse fair this fall yet.

J. C. WILSON, Pres't.

Hon. John W. Wallace.

The Star of last week attacked Dr. Wallace, the Republican and People's candidate for Congress, in the most gross and infamous manner, charging him as being as dishonest as Judas, and a traitor, by betraying his associates, incompetent and a plunderer, and many other hard names. The election is over and we will not take the trouble to argue the merits of Hon. John W. Wallace at this time. He is better known to the people of Beaver county, than to the editor of the Star, and they have endorsed his honesty and capability more than once.—There was never an election occurred in this county that the Star has not slandered, vilified, and abused some of the opposition candidates in the most villainous and blackguard way. We will content ourselves at this time by simply adding that Hon. John W. Wallace has more honesty, loyalty and competency in his political little finger than there is in the whole loins of the Editor of the Star, or those who assail you.

ANOTHER VICTIM.—We regret to learn of the death of Mr. John Q. Laird, formerly a citizen of this county, which took place in the Hospital at Corinth, Miss., some time in the month of June. Mr. Laird enlisted in the 4th Iowa Regiment at the breaking out of the rebellion, and served with credit through the Missouri campaign during the summer and winter of '61 and '62. He was in nearly all the battles in Missouri. At the battle of Blue Mills the regiment was almost annihilated; yet he escaped uninjured. He went with the regiment to Tennessee, and was in the battles of Ft. Donelson, Shiloh, and several others; but at last he was taken with that loathsome disease, the small-pox, and died far away from his home and kindred—with no kind hands to close his eyes, or wipe the death-damp from his brow. Thus is added another to the long list of the victims of this accursed rebellion.

"E Pluribus Unum" vs. "A Citizen."

A correspondent of the Star of last week, over the signature of "A citizen," makes a weak and base attack upon the author of a communication in the last week's Argus, signed "E Pluribus Unum." The argument of "E Pluribus" were so sound, convincing and overwhelming that "A citizen" makes no attempt to meet or overthrow them, but in his usual style commenced making mouths and throwing dirt and calling all kinds of ugly names. He also says that "E Pluribus Unum" never was a Democrat.—We assert that he was; and as we have no concealments we will give his name, viz: JAMES PATTERSON, Esq., of Patterson tp., Beaver county—one of the most influential and respectable citizens of the county, too high-minded to make any reply to so filthy an attack upon his good name and character. He is too honorable to wrestle with a pile of dirt.

The writer in the Star knew well that he had been long a Democrat; but for political purposes, emphatically denies the fact. The same writer charges the Republican party with being abolitionists. We reply, by charging him with treason, and with aiding rebellion. We don't deem the communication worthy of further notice.

Wonderful Discovery !

A correspondent of last week's Star, subscribing himself "JUSTICE," while travelling through the woods near Darlington—according to his own account, accidentally fell upon a "mare's nest." He was taken entirely by surprise, and the shock was so terrible that he fell suddenly to the ground. But, after a little while he arose up again; and on recovering himself, he looked, he gazed, and started back! He looked again, and lo, and behold! he saw a "Circular!" issued by the Republican and People's County Committee, calling upon the Loyal men of the County to turn out to the election! He gazed upon it, and exclaimed: "It reads, 'Loyal men—men who stand by the Union, the Constitution and the laws.' Can it be?—Yes, it must be so. There it is, or I dream!" He perched himself to see. "It is so. What shall be done? Ah! I see! I will hasten to our place of weekly meeting, (Sunday) about two miles from Beaver, and I will take counsel of my friends." After the secret conclave had assembled, the "Circular" was read, and they were all wonderfully amazed. Some declared that they would rather live under Jeff. Davis's Government than that of Lincoln. Others said that the Southern soldiers were fighting for their homes, and the Northern soldiers were fighting for pay, and that they would like to see the South triumph over the North. They all agreed that if the North was victorious, that some of the "niggers" might be set free. Whereupon they all agreed that "JUSTICE" must go forthwith to his office in the borough of Beaver, and write about this wonderful "Circular,"—this sneaking manner of electioneering, and have it printed in the Star. He started, and soon arrived at his office. Here he says to himself: "I will write and have it printed in the Star. Long is not for the Union. He pretended to be last fall; but he is all right now." Here he laughed, and exclaimed: "Am I not rejoiced that I whipped him back to the Breckinridge ranks. I can make use of him now; that is all I wanted." He writes as follows: "It is a secret circular. I am informed that it was intended to be kept private. But I saw it. How dare they do this without letting me know. Oh, I know; they are for the Union, and I am for the South and Slavery, and so is Long. But what will I say about it? Well it was intended to be secret. But what will they say? Did I not write a secret Circular a few years ago, in which I villified and abused the Republican candidates, and many of my neighbors, and yet they don't attack any one in this Circular of theirs. But they don't know that I wrote that slanderous Circular, and I will write." Here he seizes his pen, and writes again as follows: "They advocate no party, and the Circular says that we live in the midst of a bloody war, and yet in this hour of peril the Democrats are organizing their bands for victory, and that the Circular continues, 'That to crush the rebellion we must sustain and not weaken those in authority.' It says, too, that they who carry forward the war for the Union, the Constitution and the laws, are entitled to your confidence. They have said all this and many other things. Therefore, after summoning all the charity I profess to aid me as I say in conclusion, 'That the writer of this Circular, issued by this Republican and People's County Committee is insane, or nearly so.'" Here he subscribed himself "JUSTICE," and dated at Darlington, and dropped his pen and hastened up street to the Star office, and read to Long. "Good," exclaimed he, "we have got them now; you are always right, 'Squire. It is true, I left you last fall. I thought I could do better, but you have shown me the error of my way, and I have returned to my former love, and will make amends, by doing all you ask. Oh, forgive this one time, and I will never sin against you again." "JUSTICE," replied, "I forgive you," and all this was printed;—the people read and were greatly astonished.

Apples for the Hospitals.

Central Office, Sanitary Commission,
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2d, '62.

The enquiry being frequently made whether the Commission wishes to receive apples for the use of the wounded, it should immediately be published, as widely as possible, that dried apples cannot be sent to its depots in too large quantities. Town and village Relief Societies are requested to make arrangements for paring, cutting, and drying by their members, and such volunteer assistance as they can enlist, and to notify farmers that they will receive such good fruit as they may be disposed to offer and are unable themselves to properly prepare.—Dried apples may be sent in barrels or, in strong bags marked "To be kept dry." Dried fruits of other kinds, and all good canned fruits, will be very acceptable.

General Secretary.

Our Whole Ticket Elected ! !

We have Triumphed—Triumphed most Gloriously! and sent the Hughes Party howling to their dens! Jeff. Davis is thus rebuked by Beaver, and all his satellites with him.

The majorities on the County ticket will range from 500 to 700—one or two falling something below, owing to local causes.

We have again met the enemy and vanquished him! We congratulate the citizens of Beaver County upon A VICTORY WHICH FAR SURPASSES THE MOST SANGUINE EXPECTATIONS. The most desperate efforts were made by the Hughes Party on yesterday. Slanders, misrepresentations and calumny were set afloat but all of no avail.

Below we give the returns of the Districts heard from, up to the hour of going to press:

☞ The traitor, Vallandigham, is reported to be defeated. If true, it will be glorious news. He is more deserving a place on the gallows than the U. S. Congress; still he has friends in this county.

Allegheny County.

From Allegheny county the returns thus far received indicate the election of the Republican ticket by a considerable majority—between two and three thousand.

Pennsylvania Election.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct 14.—The election proceeded very quietly. The polls closed at 8 o'clock. From returns up to 8 1-2 o'clock, the Democrats concede that Mayor Henry, the Union candidate, has 3,000 majority. Eight wards of this city give Mayor Henry 5,000 majority, showing Democratic losses.

Broomall, Union, is reported elected to Congress over M'Call in the 7th district. First district, Samuel J. Randall, Democrat, is elected 1,500 or 1,600 majority. Second district, Chas. O'Neill, is elected over C. J. Biddle. Third district, Leonard Myers, is elected. Fourth district, Wm. Kelly, Union, is probably elected.

The Republicans claim a gain of four members to the Legislature from this city.

LANCASTER, Oct 14.—Thaddeus Stevens is re-elected to Congress by over 4,000 majority over Steinman Democrat.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14.—Glorious news from all parts of the State. Blair, Bailey and M'Pherson are elected by heavy majorities.

A great Union victory throughout the State has probably been gained.

The whole Democratic ticket is elected in Berks by about 400 maj.

Ohio Election.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—The election passed off very quietly. The Democrats have elected their entire county ticket in Hamilton co. Pendelton, Dem., of 1st district, the present member of Congress, is re-elected—In the 2d district Long, Dem., probably beats Gurley, Republican. Reports from other counties come in slowly. Vallandigham dem., of 3d district is probably beaten.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 14.—The Pioneer of the 11th says that a dispatch received by Gen. Pope from Gen. Sibley, reports that the Indian war, as far as the Sioux are concerned, is about ended. The entire force of lower bands have surrendered to General Sibley. He has probably two thousand prisoners. A cavalry force is in pursuit of the Little Craw's and others who are making their escape. Twenty Indians have been convincted so far.

LOUISVILLE, Oct 14.—1 P. M.—General Negley is reported to have had a recent fight with guerrillas near Nashville, in which he took 300 prisoners.

PENNSYLVANIA INVADED!

3,000 Rebel Cavalry Cross the Potomac at Hancock.

They Pass Above the Right of Our Army, Along its Rear and Escape Across the Potomac.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 20.—7:30 P. M.—Governor Curtin has just received the following dispatch from Colonel McClure:

"Chambersburg, Oct. 10.—Mercersburg was occupied by Stuart's rebel cavalry to-day. They are now advancing on Chambersburg. They took the horses and all other property they wanted at Mercersburg, offering rebel scrip for it. They did no injury to individuals, but I have heard the force estimated at three thousand.

"The rebels are certainly advancing upon Chambersburg. They have cut the Bedford telegraph wires. They are reported as near St. Thomas, which is about seven miles from here. There is no doubt whatever of their being in Mercersburg. They will certainly give us a call to-night. We had the rumor at four o'clock, but it was not credited. We can make no resistance as it would only exasperate them, and cause a wanton destruction of property and life.

"Later.—8 P. M.—About fifteen men on horseback, have come into town.—They are armed with carbines, and carry a flag of truce. They want to see the principal men of the town.—They have a large force about one mile from town, and will enter in an hour. Col. M'Clure and Provost Marshal Kimmell have gone two miles from town to meet the rebel commander.

"Nothing can be done except surrender. We look for the arrival of the whole force in half an hour. They crossed the Potomac at Hancock, and came over the country to the Pittsburg pike."

Gov. Curtin is now pushing troops up the valley.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—Dispatches are constantly being received at headquarters of the proceedings of Stuart's Cavalry since they left Chambersburg. Private property was respected. The only exception was the entering of a store in Chambersburg, and carrying off about $260 worth of boots and shoes.

After leaving Chambersburg they proceeded in the direction of Gettysburg. About five miles from Gettysburg the farmers throughout the county assembled in considerable numbers and made a bold stand. They succeeded in capturing one of the number of the advance guard, who was taken into Gettysburg, and is now on his way, in charge of a guard, to Harrisburg.

The railroad to Hagerstown is now in running order. The bridge on the Cumberland Valley Railroad, at Scotland, not having been destroyed, as previously reported. Telegraph communication is also open direct to Gen. McClellan's headquarters.

Large numbers of troops have been freely offered to Gov. Curtin, throughout the State, but as yet none have been accepted, as a sufficient force has been alredy sent forward to meet the present emergency. Gen. Wool is now in command of all the forces in Pennsylvania.

It is supposed that the rebels are making direct to Frederick, Maryland.

Gen. Brooks is in command at Hagerstown, where everything is quiet.

The opinion seems to prevail here in official quarters that the whole rebel force will be captured.

[We learn from a gentleman who arrived in this city from Carlisle yesterday, that the rebels, on Saturday morning, destroyed the machine shops, railway and rolling stock of the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company, which were at Chambersburg. They seized about five hundred horses, and also took a large amount of Government clothing which they at once exchanged for their own dilapidated garments.—ED. DISPATCH.]

HARRISBURG, Oct. 12.—The rebels are encamped at Emmettsburg. The operator at Carlisle telegraphs that the scouts report the rebels as moving on that place. The utmost excitement now prevails at Carlisle, and the excitement here is also very great—Trains are leaving for Carlisle loaded with troops from Camp Curtin and the surrounding country.

Twelve O'clock M.—The enemy left Gettysburg in the night, and crossed the B. & O. R. R. at New Market.—They destroyed the railroad track and telegraph, and then struck for the Potomac east of the Monocacy. Our cavalry were in pursuit, but probably too late to capture them. General McClellan may intercept them, but it is doubtful.

Ten O'Clock p. m.—A dispatch received this evening states that the rebels, from 2,000 to 3,000 strong, passed through Woodsboro, Liberty, New Market and Urbana, and then made for the Potomac river. They advanced from the direction of Gettysburg, destroying a small portion of the railroad track at New Market.

Gen. Pleasanton with about 2,500 cavalry, passed through Frederick, Md., this morning in pursuit.

THE LATEST, Harrisburg, 11, P. M.—Official dispatches just received stated that the rebels have succeeded in escaping. They crossed the Potomac, near the mouth of the Monocacy, having made a march of ninety miles in twenty-four hours.

Gen. Pleasanton's forces arrived at the crossing just as they had finished, and engaged their artillery, but nothing is known of the result. His force marched seventy-eight miles during the last twenty-four hours.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12.—The following is from the American special: When intelligence was received here of the crossing of Stuart's cavalry into Pennsylvania, it was generally anticipated they would endeavor to make their exit by way of some of the fords near the mouth of the Monocacy, and Gen. M'Clellan immediately ordered a movement of troops to intercept them on roads leading in that direction. On Saturday we had intelligence of their having reached Emmettsburg from Chambersburg by way of the Fairfield road, where they halted for some hours, and, it is said, but not generally credited, that a force was sent from there to Gettysburg, which is about 10 miles further north. The rapidity with which they are known to have moved after leaving Chambersburg, clearly shows that they did not visit Gettysburg. During Saturday afternoon and evening large bodies of Federal troops, consisting of cavalry, infantry and artillery, were ordered to the vicinity of Frederick, to protect the immense stores there, it being anticipated to be the purpose of the rebels to destroy these, as well as the railroad bridge at Monocacy station. Other troops were also sent on different roads leading to the Pennsylvania line, and hopes were entertained that the invaders would be intercepted and captured.

Intelligence was received on Saturday night at 12 o'clock that the enemy was moving towards Frederick and had reached Woodbury, which is eight miles north-east of the city, they having diverged from the direct road to Emmettsburg, so as to be able to choose a route east of Frederick on their way to the Potomac, if it should be necessary for their safety. On reaching Woodbury, Stuart ascertained from his scouts that a large Federal force was stationed to intercept him, and that Gen. M'Clellan had discovered his movement eastward in time to afford ample protection to government property and Frederick.—This made it necessary that he must move rapidly to avoid capture before reaching the Potomac. Four additional regiments had arrived during the evening by railroad from Harper's Ferry, with additional artillery, to reinforce the force already at Frederick, which fact it has since been ascertained was reported to the enemy at Woodbury. On receiving information that the rich prize they anticipated at Frederick and Monocacy Junction was safe, consisting, besides the bridge, of twelve heavy engines, two hundred loaded, and great quantities of hospital and army stores and wagons, they started off in an easterly direction, by the Liberty town road to New Market, on Baltimore turnpike. This movement required a detour to reach the Potomac of ten or fifteen miles, making it necessary to push for fords below instead of above the mouth of the Monocacy.

FREDERICK, Oct. 12.—All the information received here indicates that the rebels accomplished their raid with impunity, passing from above the right of our army along its rear, and recrossing into Virginia in the vicinity of Conrad's Ferry. They numbered 2500 cavalry, four pieces of light artillery, and had no baggage train, except a few ambulances.

From Chambersburg they passed through Emmettsburg, Woodsboro, New Market, and crossed the B. & O. R. R. at Monrovia, early this morning. At Monrovia they cut the telegraph line and tore up a few rails.—From Monrovia they moved towards Nolan's Ferry, at the mouth of the Monocacy. At the ford they met the Third and Fourth Maine regiments with a battery of artillery. The rebels were severely shelled and replied with vigor, but not much damage was done on either side. Having no cavalry there, our force could not pursue the rebels, who finally moved down the river in the direction of Edwards' and Conrod's Ferry, where, it is believed, they crossed over this afternoon.

Gen. Pleasanton, with cavalry, was in pursuit, but was two hours behind the rebels. It was the opinion of some that only a portion of their force had recrossed.

Ball's cavalry and Rush's Lancers, who were sent out yesterday in the direction of Gettysburg, have brought in seven stragglers from the rebels. One of them with whom I talked, says their column was 5,000 strong. They crossed the Potomac at Dam No. 5. General Stuart was in command.—Their principal object was to get stores.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 13.—Governor Curtin has just received information, dated Perryville, Juniata county, from a reliable gentleman of Perry county, that a rebel force, 30,000 strong made their appearance within eight miles of Concord, Franklin county, last night at twelve o'clock, and had carried off fifteen hundred horses.—The farmers of Franklin county are moving all their stock into Perry county. The rebels are supposed to be making for the Pennsylvania Central Railroad.

HARRISBUG, Oct. 13.—Letters are constantly being received at headquarters in relation to the manner of making out the muster rolls of the companies of militia that were reported and arrived at Harrisburg under the late call of the Governor. The names and residences of the officers and men are all that is required, and when thus filled up should be forwarded to Adjt. Gen. A. L. Russell, Harrisburg, where they will be ready for future reference when required.

PHILADEDPHIA, Oct. 13.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have received a dispatch from an irresponsible source conveying, on the assertions of a reliable gentleman, information of the same nature as the Inquirer's dispatch in relation to the invasion, but it has received no confirmation from any official on the road, and the Company places no confidence in it.—The rumor is supposed by some to be gotten up for political purposes.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 11.—The Democrat learns that Capt. Bowle's quartermasters' train was attacked on the morning of the 8th by a party of rebels whom Major Bradford held in check near Frankfort, when Kirby Smith's whole force appeared on the opposite side of the river, and necessitated a surrender of seventeen government wagons and ten or fifteen sutlers' wagons. The enemy captured five hundred and fifty of Sill's stragglers, whom they sent back to the train.

Among the Federals captured were Maj. Bradford, Lieut. Cassell of the 77th Pennsylvania, Capt. Bowle's Quartermaster, Lieut. Bailey of the 13th Indiana, and Lieut. Goldsmith of the 39th, Ohio.

The Journal says Gayson was taken by the rebels on the 30th of September.

Nashville is surrounded by the rebels, who are committing all sorts of depredations, and the Federals are on half rations. Provisions are at fabulous prices. The rebels captured forty Federal foraging wagons last week, nine miles south of Nashville.

Col. Bennett, guerrilla chief was routed on the 1st half way between Gallatin and Nashville, and is said to be mortally wounded.

It is reported by intelligent army officers that Gens. Cheatham and Polk (rebels) were killed and that the rebel loss at Perrysville exceeded ours by three to one.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 12.—A squad of Dumont's men, under Col. Miller, captured two pieces of artillery and one hundred and fifty rebels, at Versallies, yesterday.

A portion of Dumont's command drove the enemy, on Saturday night, from Lawrenceburg toward Nicholson, wounding several and capturing sixteen prisoners. Federal loss nothing.

The Maysville Eagle says a dispatch was received by John C. Breckinridge's wife to meet him at Danville on Monday last.

A deputation of the Cincinnati Sanitary Commission left at six o'clock this afternoon with a special train of ambulance wagons, containing supplies for the Perryville wounded.—They will have a government escort from Bardstown to Perryville.

The remains of Gen. Terrell and Col. Webster were sent to Cincinnati by the mail boat at two o'clock this afternoon. Gen. James S. Jackson was buried from Christ Church, under escort of the 25th Michigan and Capt. Miller's battery. Rev. Mr. Talbott officiated. There was hardly a dry eye in the Church. The remains were temporarily deposited in Cave Bill Cemetery.

Cannonading was heard near Lawrenceburg, Kentucky, to-day. Gen. Dumont sent reinforcements thither.

On the day of the inauguration of Dick Hawes, at Frankfort, Bragg while dining at the same table with the Misses Preston, was interrupted by a message. After refusing several times, the consented to hear the message. Immediately thereafter Bragg, Hawes and others, finished their dinner in the hotel kitchen and skedaddled just in time to escape the Union forces.

Louisville is all quiet, although the anomalous position of Kirby Smith causes some uneasiness.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF WEDNESDAY'S (PERRYSVILLE) FIGHT.

The Federal force was 16,000; that of the rebels, sixty-two regiments, aggregate unknown. The Federal loss was from 500 to 600 killed, and 2,300 wounded and 440 prisoners. The latter were paroled by Buckner. The rebel loss was 1,300 killed including one general wounded and 14 Colonels and lieutenant colonels. This number of killed and wounded is admitted by the rebel medical director of Gen. Cheatham's division.

A dispatch from a member of the 1st Wisconsin says the first division lost 58 killed and 124 wounded.—Among the wounded are Major Mitchell and Capt. Green.

Dispatches were received at headquarters stating that Col. Lytle's wound is very slight. He has been paroled and will arrive to-morrow evening.

It is reported that Walford's cavalry captured over one 100 rebel wagons, 1,000 prisoners, one battery, on Friday, between Perryville and Harrodsburg.

Dumont is at Frankfort.

Marshall, it is said left Lexington on Sunday last with his whole (rebel) force 2,000 Infantry and 4,500 Cavalry. It is believed that his force were driven from Versallies are at Nicholsville.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—It is understood that a dispatch from Gen. Boyle, dated Louisville, 10 p. m. last evening, says it was generally believed that the rebel Generals Bragg and Cheatham were both killed in the engagement of Wednesday last near Bardstown. Our loss in killed, wounded and missing was between 1500 and 2000, while that of of the enemy was larger. We held the field that night, and skirmished with them in their retreat the next morning. When this dispatch left Louisville a courier from our forces was expected to arrive in the course of the night, bringing details of the pursuit and the battle which was probably fought yesterday. Gen. Boyle expresses his belief in the truth of the account of the killing of Bragg and Cheatham in the action of Wednesday.

STRANGER IN TOWN.—We have been gratified by a call from Frederick Ayer Esq., the business man of the firm of J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell. A short acquaintance with the gentleman convinces us that not the Doctor's skill in compounding his medicines is alone concerned in the immense consumption of them; but that it takes business talent of no ordinary measure to pass them around the world. Mr. Ayer, manifestly, has these abilities and the success of his house shows that he uses them. ["Memphis Whig," Tenn.]

Gen. M'Clellan's Order.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC,
NEAR SHARPSBURG, MD.,

GENERAL ORDER No. 163.—The attention of the officers and soldiers of the Army of the Potomac is called to General Order No. 139, War Department, Sept. 24, 1862, publishing to the army the Presidents Proclamation of Sept. 22. A proclamation of such grave moment to the Nation, officially communicated to the army, affords to the General Commanding an opportunity of defining specifically to the officers and soldiers under his command the relation borne by all persons in the military service of the United States toward the civil authorities of the Government.

The Constitution confides to the civil authorities, legislative judicial and executive, the power and duty of making, expounding, and executing the Federal laws. Armed forces are raised and supported simply to sustain the civil authorities and are to be held in strict subordination thereto in all respects. The fundamental rule of our political system is essential to the security of our republican institutions, and should be thoroughly understood and observed by every soldier.

The principle upon which and the objects for which, armies shall be employed in suppressing the Rebellion must be determined and declared by the civil authorities; and the Chief Executive, who is charged with the administration of National affairs, is the proper and only source through which the views and orders of the Government can be made known to the armies of the nation. Discussion of officers and soldiers concerning public measures determined upon and declared by the Government when carried at all beyond the ordinary temperate and respectful expression of opinion tend greatly to impair and destroy the discipline and efficiency of the troops, by substituting the spirit of political faction for that firm, steady, and earnest support of the authority of the Government, which is the highest duty of the American soldier. The remedy for political errors, if any are committed, is to be found only in the action of the people at the polls.

In thus calling the attention of this army to the true relation between the soldiers and the Government, the General Commanding merely adverts to an evil against which it has been thought advisable during our whole history to guard the armies of the Republic, and in so doing he will not be considered by any right minded person as casting any reflection upon loyalty and good conduct, which have been so fully illustrated upon so many battle fields. In carrying out all measures of public policy, this army will, of course, be guided by the same rules of mercy and Christianity that have ever controlled its conduct toward the defenseless. By command of Major-Gen. M'CLELLAN.
JAMES A. HARDEE, Lieut Col.,
Aid-de-Camp, and A. A. A. G.

HOMICIDE AT BURGETTSTOWN.—On the evening of the first day of the Fair at Burgettstown, a shooting affray occurred at a negro shanty adjoining the town, in which a man named George Wells was killed. It seems that Wells, whose parents reside on the Ohio river opposite Steubenville, in company with one or two others had come to Burgettstown to attend the Fair, and on the night referred to, had gone down to the negro shanty above mentioned to attend a dance. Several colored [illegible] were present and there being [illegible] in the party, more or less of the number were under its influence. In the course of the evening an altercation took place among them which [illegible] ed in Wells and his companions being ordered to leave. On taking their departure the quarrel was [illegible] and according to the account of [illegible] persons, stones were thrown at the house by the party leaving. [illegible] one Benjamin Wheeler the [illegible] man who it seems occupied the [illegible] came to the door and fired a gun apparently without effect. Wells who was standing a short [illegible] from the house, and who it is [illegible] had not been in the quarrel [illegible] something and started toward the door, when a second shot was discharged by Wheeler, and Wells immediately fell. He was picked up and carried to the office of Dr. [illegible] but died almost instantly, having been penetrated in the breast and abdomen by a number of slugs, the weapon being a double barrelled shot gun.

Wheeler is a notoriously bad [illegible] having shot a man some four or [illegible] years ago in Cannonsburg. We are sorry to say that he made his escape and has managed thus far to [illegible] pursuit. We trust he may yet be arrested and brought to punishment.—Wash. Reporter and Tribune.

☞ President Lincoln's [illegible] tion Proclamation has created [illegible] excitement at the Rebel capital [illegible] intemperately denounced as [illegible] to the usages of civilized war [illegible] an outrage on private property [illegible] far as we can judge by extracts [illegible] Richmond papers and the [illegible] debate on the subject in Congress [illegible] Rebels contemplate the raising [illegible] old death's head and cross-bones [illegible] Capt. Kidd, and the indiscriminate slaughter of men, women and [illegible] as a measure of retaliation. They [illegible] just as mad as when they first [illegible] of General Pope's subsistence order; then they would hang every one of Pope's officers, sure; but after catching [illegible] 50 of them, and having time to [illegible] it over, they parolled, or exchanged them without the hanging. In Congress, a resolution has been referred to a committee, that President Lincoln's act should be held up to the execration of mankind, and counteracted by such severe retaliatory measures as in the judgment of the President may be best calculated to secure withdrawal or arrest its execution.

Description of Ft. Darling.—A refugee Englishman from Richmond saw Fort Darling last June, and again just before leaving, and furnishes a a corespondent of the New York Tribune with a description of the work:

Three companies of Infantry and one company of marines are encamped behind the fort. There are only thirteen guns mounted in the fort, but there is room for more, and there is a marine battery consisting of three 32-pounders rifled guns. There are also four 10-inch columbiads. The rest are ordinary smooth bore 32 pounders. Outside the fort there are three marked batteries of 10-inch columbiads, one gun in each battery; commanding the approaches of the river, and one in front of the fort, commanding the line of sunken vessels and other obstructions. There are four rows of sunken vessels at Fort Darling, with an opening for rebel craft to go through. Between Fort Darling and Richmond, five miles from the latter place, there is a single row of sunken vessels, which is not commanded by any guns, but can be protected by field pieces.—About 500 yards nearer to Richmond is the pontoon bridge, used for crossing troops on the opposite side of the river, and only a thousand yards lower down than Fort Darling is a battery which is said to be mounted with twelve guns—one iron battery of three guns.

A Neat Speech.—At the presentation of a pistol to a Connecticut corporal, the orator apostrophized as follows: "Corporal! My heart is full. These times try the souls of us all, as well as our pockets. My words must be few, and to the purpose. Give them Jessie—and J. Charles also. Say you will. Resolve that it is a big thing and that you can see it. Shoot at it. Smite them hip and thigh, and pay no regard to camphene or brickbats. But beware of Old Bourbon.—Do your duty. John, keep out of drafts. Don't go off half cocked; and keep your pistol pointed from you."—The Corporal, on receiving the weapon, was too much affected to make a formal reply, but promised that the pistol should speak for him.

Louisville Oct. 19.—Early yesterday morning Buell attacked Bragg's forces at Chaplin Creek in the immediate vicinity of Perryville. A short but terrific fight ensued when the rebels broke and retreated rapidly over three diverging roads to the Southwest. Our forces are in close pursuit, with a hope to bag the lot.—At last accounts Gen. Gilbert's forces were in the rear of the rebels and some distance below them. Military exigencies require the suppression of the place. No farther accounts of the loss on either side.

Louisville is in great anxiety and excitement respecting the fate of our soldiers in the pending battle.

Capt. Oldershaw, Jackson's Adjutant, is on his way here from Bardstown, with the remains of Gens. Jackson and Terrell, and Col. Webster, of the 98th Ohio.

☞ It is stated that the naval war medals which Congress has authorized the President to distribute, in acknowledgement of eminent services, will be composed of the same metal for all classes so that an admiral and a man before the mast shall have the same distinction. Also, that the specimens in gold, silver and bronze recently struck at the mint were executed only to show how the medal would appear in different metals.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—The Inquirer has special from Perryville announcing another rebel raid in Franklin county. They are thirty thousand strong and are supposed to be making for the Pennsylvania Central Railroad. They have seized a large numbers of horses.

Death of an Old Editor.—Col. John F. Carter, for many years connected with the newspaper press, and one time publisher of a paper in Lancaster, Pa., called the Lancaster Democrat, died recently at his residence, in Prince George county, Maryland.

Married—On Wenesday, October [illegible] by Rev. Dr. Pressley, Mr. Duncan Cunningham and Miss Kate Smith, all of Beaver County, Pa.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK.

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother had been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER,

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

SELLERS LIVER PILLS.

(THE ORIGINAL, ONLY TRUE AND GENUINE)

For 25 Years a Staple Remedy for

LIVER COMPLAINT

AND ALL BILIOUS DISEASES.

The ordinary evidences of Disease of the Liver are Pain and tenderness in the region of the Liver, sometimes dull and aching, increased by pressure, pain and Uneasiness in Breathing, Pain in the right Shoulder, uneasiness when lying upon the left side, increased size of the Liver, Short and Dry Cough, disordered stomach, Nausea, Yellowish Tinge on the eyes and skin, Headache, yellowish fur on the tongue, Bitterish taste in the mouth, heavy, dull sensation in the Brain, Depression of Spirits, amounting almost to Insanity, slight Fever toward evening, Loss of Appetite, Melancholy, with moroseness and Hypochondria, Neuralgia, dullness, a general feeling of Uneasiness, Languor, drowsiness, the patient conscious of something wrong in himself, and disposed to see nothing right in things about him, yet wholly unable to explain the cause of his sensations—with many others easily detected by resemblances to some one or other of the above. The Liver Pill will almost certainly arrest the disease if taken upon the appearance of the above symptoms, which if allowed to take its course, becomes chronic in its nature and almost incurable, producing great and constantly increasing suffering.

The use of this medicine will neither create a new disease nor complicate an existing one, but, in most cases, will prepare the system for the more vigorous remedies of the physician, should it be necessary to call in his aid.

SELLERS' VERMIFUGE.

WORMS!

Every year Thousands of Children die from this horrible evil. This alarming mortality loudly calls for increased watchfulness and for greater care in the selection of the remedy. The sweeping opposition of many physicians to advertised worm medicines is, in a measure, justified by the injurious qualities of some of the vermifuges, and the positive inefficiency of most of the so-called "Worm Confections," "Worm Candies," "Worm Teas," &c. Even if some of the latter are as harmless as they are inefficient, THE DELAY ITSELF MAY COST LIFE. No thoughtful, sensible mother, will thus trifle with the life of her child.

LET PHYSICIANS SPEAK.

SELLERS' VERMIFUGE THE BEST IN USE!

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Licking Station, Ky. Dec. 17, 1845.

MR. R. E. SELLERS:—Your Vermifuge possesses more virtue than any I ever used. I will state a case where I gave one vial. My brother's child was pining and wasting to a mere skeleton. In 36 hours after I gave the Vermifuge, the enormous quantity of upward of six hundred worms were passed. The child, that was given up for lost, is now as well as any in the neighborhood.

AMBROSE ARNETT, M. D.

Gallipolis, Ohio, April 1, 1848.

All that is required to give it reputation in any family, is a fair trial.

R. H. WILSON, M. D.

Point Pleasant, Va., Oct. 4, 1847.

MR. R. E. SELLERS:—Having used it in my practice for the last four or five years, I think it decidedly the best preparation of the kind. I have heretofore used the preparation of the several other manufacturers. Yours respectfully,

D. COUCH, M. D.

We might enumerate hundreds of other cases, were it necessary, but Sellers' Vermifuge has stood the searching test of the medical faculty and public for more than a quarter of a century, which, of itself, is conclusive of its entire safety, as well as the certainty of its effect.

NOTICE.—Extraordinary inducements are offered to dealers to recommend and sell other Vermifuges. Do not let unprincipled men palm off any of these on you. The best at any price is the cheapest, therefore ask for Sellers' Vermifuge, and take no other.

SELLERS' COUGH SYRUP.

From A. Cushing, Druggist, S. Bend, Ind.

D. S. OWEN, Esq.—Dear Sir—In reply to your favor of the 13th instant, I would say that the sale of Sellers' Medicines has far exceeded my expectations; and in no case have they failed to produce the desired effect. The Cough Syrup is a cure for coughs, colds, &c, and the cheapness of the article places it within the reach of all, which, together with its efficacious qualities, renders it a universal favorite. Not a day passes without numerous calls for "the one thing needful," at this season of the year, viz. Sellers' Cough Syrup.

A. G. CUSHING.

Price 25 Cents.

Sellers' VERMIFUGE.

From the Rev. S. Wakefield, former Pastor of the Liberty Street M. E. Church.

MR. R. E. SELLERS—It is from a sense of duty, as well as with great pleasure, that I bear testimony to the virtue of your justly celebrated Vermifuge. I procured a single bottle, and gave it to three of my children, who had been ill for several weeks. The eldest was seven years old, the next four, and the youngest eighteen months. The first passed fifty-six worms, the second forty-seven, and the third a considerable number, not distinctly recollected. Since then they have been doing well, and are now in good health. S. WAKEFIELD.

THE SOLDIER'S TRUE FRIEND!

ALWAYS READY.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

LONG marches, sore and stiff joints, blistered and inflamed feet, all these the soldier must endure, MOTHERS, REMEMBER THIS, when your sons are grasping their muskets to meet danger, think what relief a pot of this ALL HEALING & COOLING Salves will give to the one you love when far away from home and friends. It hardens and makes tough the feet so that they can endure great fatigue. It soothes and relieves the inflamed and stiffened joints, leaving them supple, strong and vigorous, while for it stands unequalled, removing and preventing every vestige of inflammation and gently drawing the edges together, it quickly and completely heals the most frightly wounds.

SABRE CUTS AND GUNSHOT WOUNDS

WIVES AND SISTERS OF OUR VOLUNTEERS

Yo canhot put into the Knapsacks of your Husbands and Brothers, a more valuable or more necessary gift than a supply of this EXTRAORDINARY MILITARY SALVE.

The lonely sentry walking his rounds at night, exposed to drenching rains and chill night air, is often seized the most VIOLENT PAINS, COUGHS and SUFFOCATING HOARSNESS first symptoms of QUICK CONSUMPTION, but if supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, all danger is averted, a few Pills taken night and morning, and the ointment briskly rubbed twice a day over the throat and chest will remove the SEVEREST PAINS and stop the most distressing or DANGEROUS COUGH Therfore we say to the whole army,

SOLDIERS ATTENTION!!

See to your own health, do not trust to the Army supplies although most valuable. These PILLS and OINTMENT have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years Doctor Holloway has supplied all the armies in Europe, and during the CRIMEAN CAMPAIGN he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these GREAT REMEDIES, many a time his special Agent there has sold over a ton in weight of the Ointment in a single day. These terrible and fatal enemies of the Soldier in Camp, DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, SCURVY, SORES and SCROFULOUS ERUPTIONS, all disappear like a charm before these PILLS AND OINTMENT, and now, while the Cry rings throughout the land,

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

Do not let these brave men perish by disease, place in their hands these PRECIOUS REMEDIES, that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot frequently get succor in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find there a sure remedy for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perish before relief could be obtained.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE

BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with these Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable, there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and Ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflammation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, ESQ., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, ESQ., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral, for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

SELLERS' LIVER PILLS.

(THE ORIGINAL, ONLY TRUE AND GENUINE)
For 25 Years a Staple Remedy for
LIVER COMPLAINT
AND ALL BILIOUS DISEASES.

The ordinary evidences of Disease of the Liver are Pain and tenderness in the region of the Liver, sometimes dull and aching, increased by pressure, pain and Uneasiness in Breathing, Pain in the right Shoulder, uneasiness when lying upon the left side, increased size of the Liver, Short and Dry Cough, disordered stomach, Nausea, Yellowish Tinge on the eyes and skin, Headache, yellowish fur on the tongue, Bitterish taste in the mouth, heavy, dull sensation in the Brain, Depression of Spirits, amounting almost to Insanity, slight Fever toward evening, Loss of Appetite, Melancholy, with moroseness and Hypochondria, Neuralgia, dullness, a general feeling of Uneasiness, Languor, drowsiness, the patient conscious of something wrong in himself, and disposed to see nothing right in things about him, yet wholly unable to explain the cause of his sensations—with many others easily detected by resemblances to some one or other of the above. The Liver Pill will almost certainly arrest the disease if taken upon the appearance of the above symptoms, which if allowed to take its course, becomes chronic in its nature and almost incurable, producing great and constantly increasing suffering.

The use of this medicine will neither create a new disease nor complicate an existing one, but, in most cases, will prepare the system for the more vigorous remedies of the physician, should it be necessary to call in his aid.

SELLERS' VERMIFUGE.

WORMS!

Every year Thousands of Children die from this horrible evil. The alarming mortality [illegible] calls for increased watchfulness and for greater care in the selection of the remedy. The sweeping proposition [illegible] to advertised worm medicines is, in a measure, justified by the injurious qualities of some of the vermifuges, and the positive inefficiency of most of the so-called "Worm Confections," "Worm Candies," "Worm Teas," &c. Even if some of the latter are as harmless as they are inefficient, [illegible] No thoughtful, sensible mother, will thus trifle with the life of her child.

LET PHYSICIANS SPEAK.

SELLERS' VERMIFUGE THE BEST IN USE!

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Licking Station, Ky. Dec 17, 1845.

MR. R. E. SELLERS:—Your Vermifuge possesses more virtue than any I ever used. I will state a case where I gave one vial. My brother's child was pining and wasting to a mere skeleton. In 36 hours after I gave the Vermifuge, the enormous quantity of upward of six hundred worms were passed. The child, that was given up for lost, is now as well as any in the neighborhood.

AMBROSE ARNETT, M. D.

Gallipolis, Ohio, April 1, 1848.

All that is required to give it reputation in any family, is a fair trial.

R. H. WILSON, M. D.

Point Pleasant, Va. Oct. 4, 1847.

MR. R. E. SELLERS:—Having used it in my practice for the last four or five years, I think it decidedly the last preparation of the kind. I have heretofore used the preparation of the several other manufacturers.—Yours, respectfully,

D. COUCH, M. D.

We might enumerate hundreds of other cases, were it necessary, but Sellers' Vermifuge has stood the searching test of the medical faculty and public for more than a quarter of a century, which of itself, is conclusive of its entire safety, as well as the certainty of its effect.

NOTICE.—Extraordinary inducements are offered to dealers to recommend and sell other Vermifuges. Do not let unprincipled men palm off any of these on you. The best at any price is the cheapest, therefore ask for Sellers' Vermifuge, and take no other.

SELLERS' COUGH SYRUP.

From A. Cushing, Druggist, S. Bend, Ind.

D. S. OWEN, Esq.—Dear Sir—In reply to your favor of the 13th instant, I would say that the sale of Sellers' Medicines has far exceeded my expectations; and in no case have they failed to produce the desired effect. The Cough Syrup is a cure for coughs, colds, &c. and the cheapness of the article places it within the reach of all, which, together with its efficacious qualities, renders it a universal favorite. Not a day passes without numerous calls for "the one thing needful," at this season of the year, viz. Sellers' Cough-Syrup.

A. G. CUSHING.

Sellers' VERMIFUGE.

From the Rev. S. Wakefield, former Pastor of the Liberty Street M. E. Church.

MR. R. E. SELLERS—It is from a sense of duty, as well as with great pleasure, that I bear testimony to the virtue of your justly celebrated Vermifuge. I procured a single bottle, and gave it to three of my children, who had been ill for several weeks. The eldest was seven years old, the next four, and the youngest eighteen months. The first passed fifty-six worms, the second forty-seven, and the third a considerable number, not distinctly recollected. Since then they have been doing well, and are now in good health. S. ## NOW,

ARE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS GOOD?

The best evidences that they are is, that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the [illegible] to the profession. Without [illegible] dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn [illegible] says:

"We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best [illegible]. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Pooder contains no acids, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all bad exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's excellent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having which are liable to impart a taint to the breath.

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Drops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifle of money you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they want them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing $1 for the Mouth Wash, to be sent by mail; but to these we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies. Who will supply them?

Now is the CHANCE FOR AGENTS.

Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the neatest article that a man or woman can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell, as samples, for $7. Agents supplied liberally with circulars. ☞ Now is the time to to go into the business, to do good, and make a profit. We are spending thousands for the benefit of agents. New England men or women, here is something nice, and a chance to take the tide at its flood. Address

WM. B. HURD & CO.,
Tribune Buildings, New York.

That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co., refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn; to G. W. Griffith, President Farmers' and Citizens Bank, Brooklyn; to Joy, Coe, Co., New York; to P. T. Barnum, Esq., New York, etc., etc.
